Investment Strategy & Process

Investment Strategy

- The Large Cap Growth Equity Strategy pursues long-term capital appreciation by investing in the stocks of quality, U.S. companies.
- The portfolio management team uses robust, quantitative stock selection models to identify companies that have attractive risk/return profiles.
- The team favors companies that offer above-average growth prospects, looking for companies with strong and/or improving earnings growth rates, as well as compelling growth stories.
- The team looks for growth stories in companies that are in growing industries and/or that are poised for growth as a result of a strategic change or advantage in business strategy, such as a new product, distribution, operational or structural enhancement.

Investment Process

- The investment process begins with proprietary, quantitative research and modeling that helps the team define the market environment, analyze the investment universe, and rank stocks from most to least attractive.
- The firm's proprietary, multi-factor model emphasizes key company characteristics, including valuation, growth and profitability, earnings quality, and investor sentiment.
- Qualitative research complements this data-focused analysis. The portfolio team contributes a qualitative overlay to the process by reviewing buy/sell candidates and industry rankings to validate and interpret model rankings.
- The combination of the two disciplines results in a portfolio in which managers have high conviction in holdings, turnover is typically 70-100 percent, and there is a deeper understanding of the portfolio's overall dynamics and composition.
- Sophisticated risk modeling is used to analyze and monitor portfolio risk on an ongoing basis.
